V1. And be it enacted, That if any clerk, who hath received public money before the passage of this act, shall neglect to pay over the same to the treasurers of the western and eastern shires respectively, before the first day of September next, such neglect shall be deemed, taken and considered, to be a misbehaviour in office.

NEW-YORK, January 30.

Sunday morning last, between the hours of one and two o'clock, the inhabitants of Springfield (Mass.) were alarmed by the cry of fire; which proved to be one of the buildings belonging to the public armoury on Federal Hill. The building (occupied as a filling and stocking shop) was entirely consumed, together with a great part of the utensils used in these branches of the business, and about five hundred stand of arms, notwithstanding the utmost exertions of the inhabitants to extinguish the flames. The loss is estimated at about 18,000 dollars.

Captain Cook, of the ship Diana, arrived here yesterday, in 24 days from Jeremie, informs us, that Touffaint was on the eve of a war with the Spaniards at St. Domingo. He had put under requisition 300 vessels, amongst which were a number of Americans, for the embarkation of troops.

The duty of 20 per cent. (which we have mentioned in a former paper) was in operation when the Diana failed.

Captain Everet, of the ship Warren, arrived here yesterday from Amsterdam, touched at Orfordness, at the mouth of the Thames, on the 11th ult. but could get no papers, nor did he hear any news. It was the opinion at Amsterdam, that there would be a general peace in the spring.—This was also the opinion of several commanders of English ships whom capt. E. spoke in the Channel.

On the trial of the persons who were convicted a few weeks ago, for altering the denomination of the notes of the Manhattan Company, it became known, that some of the substance employed by them in destroying the ink, was in the custody of the justices of the police. The attorney-general, in a conversation with the professor of Chemistry, promised to send him some of it for examination; and since the passing of the sentence upon the offenders, Mr. Remsen, the cashier of the Manhattan Company, has put some of it into Dr. Mitchell's hands. A liquid made from the material, is found to efface the characters of printer's ink, without damaging the paper, in a short time. The composition and nature of this singular agent have been detected; and will lead to a composition of ink for printing; which will be proof against it. The destruction of writing ink by oxygenated muriatic acid is well known; but the decomposition of printers ink is by a different process, and upon a different principle.

Extract of a letter from St Thomas, dated 7th January, 1801.

"An advice boat arrived at Basseterre from Rochefort in 36 days passage. She brought the treaty concluded with America, which was immediately proclaimed at Basseterre. The planters of Guadeloupe are all recalled to their homes. Mr. Lefcahier, very well known in the West-Indies, and on whom great encomiums are bestowed, is nominated prefect for Guadeloupe. He was commissary ordonnateur at Grenada, under the old government.

"Another vessel in 24 days from Bourdeaux arrived on the 23d. December, with 70 passengers, all Guadalupe planters. The hope of a general peace was considered as founded on the strongest probabilities.

"The gentleman who writes from St. Thomas is Mr. De la Saliniere, distinguished by his probity; the same who last year was the first to announce to us the favourable change wrought by Buonaparte."

Arrived yesterday, ship Nancy, Hoyt, Charleston, in 6 days. On the 29th January, spoke schooner Naturalist, Smith, 14 days out from Port Republic, bound to Norfolk, and three of the hands sick with a fever. Captain S. informed captain Hoyt, that Geo. Rigaud's party were assassinating the negroes to the number of 100 in a day.

By the Nancy we have received Charleston papers to the 26th January, inclusive. They mention the arrival there of the ship Greyhound, Pratt, in 38 days from Gibraltar, and the barque Neptune, Dryburg, in 39 days from Liverpool. Captain Pratt informs that he was in Loughorn at the time the

There is some question of the date. There was certainly no general religious persecution in the United States in 1820, and the usual interpretation of the tariff act is that it was passed in 1821. But there is one man who has been accused of persecuting other Protestants, and who is mentioned in the "Pledge," namely, the Rev. Amos A. Phelps, and there are severe references, but they were answered and explanation was immediately given by the government, setting forth that they had come to them out to destroy. The only injury suffered by the tariff itself, on account of the change of money in the place, was the payment of a duty of two per cent, imposed by the Chamber of Commerce of the city, by way of a compromise with the French, to not searching strictly for enemy's property. On the payment of this duty, and of one per cent. imposed by the Turkish government under the pretext of an avoy duty, neutral vessels were permitted to depart safely, with their cargoes.

In Leghorn, on the 22d of November, the general opinion was, that an armistice between the French and Austrians, of the expiration of which notice had been given, would be renewed, in consequence of a determined expectation, that the emperor of Russia had determined to act again in concert with the Austrians and English. But in Gibraltar, late in December, the late accounts from England had induced a belief that the emperor of Russia would act rather in concert with the French.

Captain Dryburgh left Liverpool on the 4th December, and brought no papers. He mentions that accounts were published in England, previous to his departure, of the emperor of Russia (the king of Persia probably) having entered the electorate of Hesse with an army of 60,000 men.

PHILADELPHIA, January 30.

From Mr. George Roberts, one of the supercargoes of the Eclipse, the following information has been received—

Ship Eclipse, capt. Jones, from Calcutta, sailed from the Sand Heads the 18th of October, in company with the ship Rebecca, Pitt, of and for Baltimore, and brig —, —, of and for New York, under convoy of an English frigate, sent out for the purpose of recapturing the Kent, a valuable British diamen, which had been captured by the La Confiance, Sircouff, (a French vessel of war.) The frigate came in sight of the La Confiance, and obliged her to throw all her guns overboard. The Eclipse parted from the frigate at night while they were still in chase, and separated from the two American vessels off the Sand Heads.

Captain Jones, we understand, spoke a vessel of the Sand Heads from Puli-Penang, by whom he was informed, that Batavia had surrendered to the 13th regiment of British infantry and 5 frigates, sent from Madras for that purpose. It is understood, that the inhabitants of Batavia, dissatisfied with their government, had invited the British to this measure, and that the conquest was of course made without a struggle.

COMMERCIAL

From Bourdeaux, Nov. 12. Accounts last night from Bayonne, mention the arrival of nine American vessels at St. Sebastians. They will have hard fare, as all communication between Spain and France is interdicted. The French government has passed a law, by which all tobacco, not imported in French ships, shall pay a duty of 33 francs per quintal.

Extract of a letter from captain Towers, to his owner in this city, dated Kingston, December 20th, 1800.

"I arrived here yesterday, after a boisterous passage of 19 days. On the 16th inst. east end of Jamaica bearing S. S. W. distance 12 leagues, fell in with the British ship of war America, captain Bingham, of 64 guns, ashore on the Formentor or Antio, with her main and mizen-mast gone, 6 feet water in the hold, all the guns and provisions thrown overboard, boats insufficient to take off the crew, amounting to 450 souls, and expecting every moment that all on board would perish. By the assistance of my brig, anchors, and great exertions got the ship off, and three days afterwards saw her fate in Jamaica. My brig has been injured by getting the America off; but the captain promises me a handsome reward from government—however that will avail nothing; for without any compensation the saving of 450 men from destruction, will always prove a pleasing gratification to me."

If Great-Britain and Russia should unfortunately be involved in hostilities, it is to be expected, that our commerce with the latter will be, if not wholly suspended, considerably restricted. This consideration, when it is also known that we have not at present in our store-houses as much hemp as will answer the ordinary demand of more than three or four months, ought to attract the immediate attention of Congress. To promote the culture of an article so important to a commercial nation, it is suggested, whether the offering a bounty would not operate successfully.

A gentleman in New-York has written to his friend in this city, the following information which is received from a very respectable source in Great-Britain:

A vessel had arrived at Pointe-à-Pierre, on the 27th December, from Bouvicauz, in 24 days passage, with 70 passengers, 67 of whom are young Creoles, formerly belonging to the island. This vessel brought decrease meaning all the passengers who had formerly left the island.
